TRAVELER IS ELOQUENT ON TERRITORY'S FUTURE

Muskogee, I. T., Dec. 9.—"Indian territory will be the richest country that has ever come into statehood from an unorganized territory," says Geo. H. Findley of Topeka, who has traveled over every county in Kansas, all of Oklahoma and Indian territory, Texas and most of Mexico. "Right now that country is filling up with farmers from Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, Kansas and Texas. They have sold farms for $50 and $75 an acre, and when they go to Indian Territory, they buy land and pay cash for it. They have enough money to improve their land and still have some money in the bank. They do not mortgage their property for all it is worth. The Indians from whom they buy are improving the land they do not sell and spending the money right at home. "All this money is being kept in a naturally wonderfully rich territory. It is the first time in the history of the country when land passed from the government or was homesteaded that all the money paid for the land was not sent to the United States treasury."

Rumored Resignation of Witte

Berlin, Dec. 8, 5:22 p. m.—A dispatch to the Tageblatt from St. Petersburg dated yesterday and received here today by way of Eydtkuhn, East Prussia, says Premier Witte has given his resignation to the Emperor, who refused to accept it.

OLD INDIAN TERRITORY JUDGE IN THE TOILS

New York, Dec. 9.—William O. Peary, former federal judge, of Roff, I. T., who was arrested Wednesday on information from Santa Fe, N. M., that he was wanted there on charges of forgery and grand larceny, and who was paroled for examination next Wednesday, was re-arrested yesterday. At the detective bureau it was said that word had been received from Santa Fe charging that Peary is wanted in Chicago and Philadelphia for passing worthless checks.

So old Peary has so graduated since he beat the News out of $3.00, that he is now in New York where he has been detected doing larger stunts in the direction of theft. The News is glad that Peary claims he is an ex-federal judge instead of an ex-busted disreputable newspaper man.

Mrs. Rogers Hanged.

Windsor, Vt. Dec. 9.—Without a tremor and without a word Mrs. Mary Mabel Rogers Friday marched to her death on the gallows at the State prison here and paid the penalty of murdering her husband, Marcos Rogers, at Bennington, Aug. 13, 1902. To all appearances Mrs. Rogers was the calmest person in the chamber of death.

THE FARMERS' UNION IN SESSION AT TEXARKANA

Texarkana, Ark., Dec. 8.—The convention of the Farmers' Educational Union of America adopted a constitution and elected officers today.

O. P. Pyle of Mineola, Texas, was elected president; W. A. Morris of Sulligent, Ala., vice president; R. L. McCulloch, Arkansas, secretary-treasurer; Newt Gresham, Texas National organizer; J. H. Rea, Neosha, Mo., doorkeeper; Z. R. Bell of Georgia, sergeant-at-arms.

The executive committee as elected is as follows: E. J. Cook, Guin, Alabama; J. H. Reynolds, Appleton, Ark.; I. N. McAlester, Rattan, La.; C. S. Barrett, Atwater, Ga.; Campbell Russell, Herford, I. T.; W. S. Miller, Lake Creek, Texas.

The executive committee will have the naming of the headquarters for the officers of the National Union. It will probably decide the matter before leaving here tomorrow afternoon.

Dallas, Little Rock and Texarkana are the only places mentioned tonight, and it is believed that one of these will certainly be chosen.

The convention practically completed its work this afternoon, but a night session is being held for the purpose of clearing up the odds and ends of unfinished business.

Jerome will Prosecute.

New York, Dec. 9.—Following the appearance of District Attorney Jerome at the insurance investigating committee's session yesterday, it was reported that he had already completed his plans for the prosecution of cases revealed by the work of this committee. "This is understood," says the Tribune, "that Mr. Jerome will directly after the close of the committee's public sessions—that is, at the end of the year—ask for a special pane of the Grand Jury to deal with these cases."

Mrs. M. B. Donaghey enroute home Friday from Holdenville, was suddenly taken ill. So serious was the seizure that a physician was summoned at Francis, who accompanied her home. She is reported much better today.

THE COLLEGES DECLINE TO ABOLISH FOOTBALL

New York, Dec. 9.—The advocates of intercollegiate football won a victory at the conference of thirteen colleges and universities in this city yesterday, when an amended resolution declaring that the games be not abolished, but should be reformed, was carried by a vote of 15 to 8.

Chancellor MacCracken of New York had first introduced a resolution declaring that the sport should be done away with, but an amendment was promptly offered by Lieut. Col. Robert L. Howe of West Point, and the amendment was carried. The vote on the amended resolution:

"Ayes—Wesleyan 2; Rutgers 2; Haverford 2; Swarthmore 2; Syracuse 2; Rochester 1; West Point 2; Fordham 2—Total 15.

"Noes—Stevens 1; Columbia 2; Union 2; Rochester 1; New York University 2—Total 8."

Recovered Robber's Booty.

Trainer Smith has returned with the blood hounds from Dougherty whither he went in the effort to apprehend the persons who robbed the store at that place.

The dogs followed a trail out some three miles to the mountains where over $300 of the stolen money was found secreted; and thence to the house of a party suspected. However, this is the extent of the incriminating evidence—scarcely sufficient to warrant an arrest. We offer the suggestion that there are modern decisions of the higher courts admitting the testimony of blood-hounds, that is, allowing the prosecution to show that a dog of reputation followed a trail from the scene of crime to the home of the accused.

The News is the advertising medium. It reaches; it is read. It courts comparisons. Talk to the manager about it.

COTTON ASSOCIATION WILL MEET AT NEW ORLEANS

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 9.—President Harvie Jordan of the Southern Cotton Association yesterday issued a call for a general convention of farmers, bankers, merchants and others throughout the South, to be held at New Orleans, Jan. 11, 12 and 13, 1906. The object of the convention will be to discuss the work of the association with reference to organization, the handling of the crop of 1906, trade relations between producers and spinners, extending the market for American cotton and holding the unsold balance of the present crop for 15c a pound. Many prominent speakers from various parts of the country have promised to be present and a large attendance is already predicted.

Fought in Refrigerator Car.

Denison, Tex., Dec. 9.—In an affray Thursday night in the ice bunkers of a refrigerator car in extra freight train No. 441, on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, southbound, between three men, W. C. Walker of Waco was shot through the left leg and injured seriously. All three men were taken into custody at Atoka.

Senator Mitchell Dead.

Portland, Ore., Dec. 9.—United States Senator John H. Mitchell died at the Good Samaritan Hospital in this city at 11:40 o'clock last forenoon, death resulting from complications which followed the removal of four teeth at a dental office Thursday morning.

OFFICIAL CITY PAPER.

OTIS B. WEAVER & CO., - - - PUBLISHERS
M. D. STEINER, - - - BUSINESS MANAGER

Entered as Second class matter March 26, 1904, at the Postoffice at Ada, Indian Territory, under the Act of Congress March 3, 1869.

Advertising rates furnished on application.

DAILIES AS ADVERTISING MEDIUMS.

"Successful Advertising" has the following to say of the daily paper:

"For retailers the best advertising is in daily newspapers. The returns are prompt. They can easily be traced. Within 24 hours from the time a merchant inserts his advertisement in his local papers he can tell whether or not it paid. If he has a good store system and watches his advertising closely he can tell almost to a certainty the exact returns from this advertising. Daily newspapers so far supersede all other advertising mediums for retailers that many merchants spend the full per cent of their advertising appropriations in their columns.

"To the local advertiser of any degree and description the daily newspaper may be set down in nine cases out of ten as being his chief publicity prop. It covers his field, reaches the people he wishes to reach, and through it he can tell his story more economically than through any other medium."

BUTCHER KNIFE CLEAVES THE TIES THAT BIND.

A New York husband has entered suit for divorce because his wife chased him with a butcher knife and a bath tub. The correspondent explains with delightful lucidity that it was a portable bath tub.

Now, the reader who runs might hastily conclude that the wife was in the wrong; but, mind you, we only have the husband's side of it. Possibly he was one of those hog husbands who, in the winter time, take a bath only under the utmost compulsion; and possibly she had to sleep with him. In such case she had an indisputable right to employ the butcher knife argument, even to the desperate extent of sticking him and scalding him like a hog.

SHUT UP, YOU GREASERS!

Now why do these New Mexicans and Arizonians want to butt in on that statehood fight at Washington? They do not have to accept statehood even were it tendered in the passage of the omnibus bill. Our doctrine of forcible annexation applies to the colonial status, not to statehood, be it remembered. Those protesting frontiersmen ought to keep quiet and get busy multiplying their population and resources so as to be fit for statehood. By all means let them be still and give the suffering twins a chance.

The Isle of Pines still pines for annexation to the United States.

Go to church tomorrow. However "ornery" you may be try for a day to be good if you can't be godly.

In justice to both Arizona and New Mexico they should be given a composite name in case of single statehood. For instance Arid Mexico, or Mexariz with the accent on the "riz."

XX Century at Mrs. Bills.

Mrs. Bills entertained the members of the XX Century Club and a number of guests at her home in Sunrise yesterday from three to five. The entertainment was the first of a series of library benefits. The hours were most pleasantly spent in different games, closing with dainty refreshments. The honors of the day were carried off by Mrs. Ligon and consisted of a large bouquet of carnations. The library fund gained about five dollars, which means a number of new books for our public library.

MAJESTIC BAKING

DEMONSTRATION

One Week, Beginning Dec. 11.

We heartily invite our friends to call any day during the above mentioned week and we will demonstrate the superior qualities of the
NEW MAJESTIC MALLEABLE AND CHARCOAL IRON RANGES.

The Majestic Malleable and steel range as formerly turned out by the Majestic people has been considered throughout the country par-excellence, and far ahead of any other range made. But with the new Charcoal Iron Body in place of steel, making it double its value, the fact that it is the only range in existence made of Malleable and Charcoal Iron, you can readily see that if quality is considered, the Majestic leads by a big margin. We want you to call at our store during this week and let us explain this new feature--Charcoal Iron Bodies; let us explain why it is the best material for range bodies, and incidentally why it is not used on other ranges. We want you to call if you intend to buy or not, as the information gained will serve you in the future.

HANDSOME SOUVENIR---FREE!

As long as they last we propose to give to each prospective customer a neat souvenir, something that has not been offered before. If you intend to buy call early and get one of these souvenirs.

HOT COFFEE AND BISCUITS---FREE!

Come any day during this week and have buttered hot biscuits and hot coffee. Biscuits baked on a Majestic in three minutes while you wait.

HANDSOME SET OF WARE---FREE.

With every range sold during this demonstration we will give absolutely free one set of Majestic ware worth every cent of $7.50. This ware will be on exhibition at our store. Everything useful, ornamental and durable. Come in and see it and you will agree with us that it cannot be bought for a cent less than $7.50, and it is cheap at that. You are welcome whether you intend to buy or not.

IRVING'S BAD MEMORY.

How He Once Introduced Mark Twain at a Banquet in London.

Among the many people entertained by Sir Henry Irving during his last seaship of the Lyceum was Mark Twain. Irving gave him a banquet in the greenroom after a performance one night, with a distinguished company present, says the Brooklyn Citizen. When Sir Irving arose to propose the guest's health, the humorist's name escaped him completely and the result was something like this, but the reader must imagine the high and nasal tones of the actor:

"Gentlemen—I rise to perform a very agreeable duty—a most important and pleasurable honor (mental aside: 'What is that name?') We have with us to-night as our guest the most distinguished of our compatriots from across the water (I'd give to-night's receipts if I could think who the devil he is)—a man whom you all know and love. (Ha! ha!)—a man whose genial humor, whose delicate satire has amused and entertained two hemispheres ('Drat my memory!')—a man whose name is a household word wherever the English language is spoken ('except to me!')—a man in a word who is the laughing link which binds England and America closer than any international treaty can do. I propose the health—of—this man—I propose the health—of—this man—I propose the health—of—(in a sudden burst of mnemonic discovery)—of Samuel Mark Twain!"

Which is on a par with Sir Henry's memorable reference to a famous American comedian as "our little friend, Nato Goodwin."

WAS LOADED FOR WITCHES

Soldier of Ancient Date Always Used Silver Bullets to Shoot Them.

In witchcraft lore silver seems to have been credited with great power to disperse evil spirits, says the Philadelphia Record. In an old book on the subject one reads of a "valiant Souldier who had skill in Necromancy," and who always used "silver bullets to shoot away the witches." The evidences of such superstition are brought directly to the modern eye through the discovery made by a Pennsylvania farmer.

Mr. Vedderman is interested in curios, and purchased recently an old musket at a farmhouse sale. From its appearance the weapon antedates the revolution. It was in a deplorable state of rust, and in cleaning it the new owner discovered that it was loaded.

He carefully withdrew the charge, and to his surprise found instead of bullets two silver shillings, dated 1781, tightly wadded with leaves of a Bible of ancient print. Beneath the coins was a small lock of hair and a piece of paper containing an illegible quotation. The gunpowder was coarse and undoubtedly of colonial manufacture. The whole looks very much like a charmed charge, calculated to demolish some weird lady of the broomstick.

HUNTERS CARRYING DEER.

Arrangement by Which the Task Is Rendered Comparatively Easy.

My companion was set at tying the legs of the deer together, while I cut down a birch sapling some three inches in diameter and about ten feet in length, writes John Boyd, in Recreation.

A birch tree was chosen because it is clean and springy, and being tough grained a lesser size can be used than would be necessary with some other varieties, the extra weight of which count for much on a long carry.

This completed, the pole was pushed between the legs, now tied together at the knee joints, and the head of the animal secured by rope close up to the carrying pole.

It is an advantage to get the animal in as compact a mass as possible, for in going through dense bush every additional foot of burden you have to push and guide through the maze of branches the harder it will be on the carriers; and if the body of the deer is well lashed to the pole and as close up to it as possible the less strain there will be when you get into step in the open or when climbing over obstructions, getting up or down hills, or crossing streams on a fallen tree. It is in such places that the pendulum-like motion becomes a nuisance, but which is readily overcome by seeing that the animal is bound close to the carrying pole.

Holland Smoking Society.

A parliament of smokers which was organized at Laeken, in Holland, by a society which calls itself the Vlaamsch-Pijpenrookers, has ended in the victory of one Frank Kos in the principal contest. Kos established a record of keeping his pipe alight for three hours and seven minutes without asking for a second match. The second in this competition was a man named Mertens, who kept his alight for two hours and 59 minutes, and the third was one Bruyneel, who smoked without a break for two hours and three-quarters.

London's Trading Square.

The city of London, the mile square municipality in which the bulk of London's financial and wholesale business is done, is likely soon to suppress all kinds of street trading.

CAT DECORATED TO MATCH.

An Effective Way to Set Off a Gown, Says a Lady of Fashion.

The young woman who is fully alive to the picturesque possibilities of the cat has a new fad, says the New York Sun. She matches her gown in hand, some satin ribbon, which she ties in an enormous perky bow around the neck of her Angora or Persian cat. Then she takes the cat in her arms or in her lap and talks to her men callers and watches the effect. She says that nine times out of ten they seem hypnotized by the picture, and she has heard herself spoken of as a beautiful girl five times when she used to once.

"Wear a pale blue gown," she says, "and then on your kitten use a white satin ribbon figured in forget-me-nots and you have an effect which cannot be beaten. Or suppose your dress is wine color. Make the ribbon on your cat one of those Persian things that have the wine color tone predominating and you'll make a stunning picture. If you're wearing pure white and your eyes are blue make the cat's ribbon as near the shade of the blue in your eyes as possible. If your eyes are brown the cat should wear a red ribbon, or one of those golden brown shades.

"With the champagne color gown should go a dead white ribbon for the cat. When I want to be particularly dazzling I put on a black lace gown over a white silk and then on my pussy I put a ribbon of white marked off with broad stripes of black. We make a dashing combination, I can tell you. If I'm wearing red pussy wears that peculiar shade of pink which blends so beautifully with red, and it softens my gown down so that the men like it, and very few men like a red gown.

"You know we cat lovers used to try to set off our gowns by having pussy on a harmonizing cushion at our side, but it was impossible to make a cushion for every gown, and so this plan of dressing the cat with ribbons has been adopted."

Wanted Money All the Time.

A negro was complaining that his wife kept asking him for money. "It is a dollar, a fifty or even a quatah. It is money, money all the time," he said. "What does she do with all of the money?" asked an innocent bystander. "Don't know," was the reply; "haint nebber gib her noue yit."

An Aspiration.

"Why do you want to become rich?" "Well," said the somewhat cynical person, "I'd like to have the income and leisure that would permit me to lecture people on the vanity of worldly wealth."

EARNED WAY BACK HOME.

Girl Tills the Soil and Gains Price of Trip from Pennsylvania to Iowa.

A summer in the cornfield was not too high a price for Annie Ulrich to pay for a journey back to Iowa and a few weeks' visit on the old homestead where she spent her girlhood, relates the Philadelphia Press.

Six years ago this young woman was married to Annon Ulrich. She was 17 then. They came east, where he lived, and started life together on his farm in Middle Creek township, Snyder county. Soon there rose in her a great desire to go back and see the folks at home, and the prairie she loved, and the places she cherished in memory.

"But the money?" said Ulrich. "We haven't it."

For five seasons he did his best at seed time and harvest, but there was no surplus for a ticket to Iowa."

Then, last spring, said Annie Ulrich:

"Give me five acres of land—I don't care what five it is—and I will plant and cultivate and harvest a crop, and the money for the sale of it shall be for my trip to the west."

He agreed.

For decades there has not been in Snyder county such a yield of corn as Annie Ulrich's plow and hoe and prayers coaxed out of the earth. Nor have there been between corn rows such pumpkins as hers.

In trousers and blouse and broad brimmed hat she has toiled in the field between breakfast dishes and milking time.

Her own hands have put the yellow ears in the crib. Now she is ready to take them to market, and then—off for the golden west and the old home.

Japanese in Seattle.

The Japanese form so considerable a part of the population of Seattle that the government finds it convenient to establish a special post office for them, where mail is received and distributed among Japanese only.

Height in French Army.

Since the law of 1901 there has been no limit of height for a French soldier; dwarf or giant, all must serve. Before that time the limit was only five feet one inch. Yet the average height was not yet run down to that of Napoleon's "grande armee" in its last years and not long ago it was above that of the German army measured as a whole.

Never Twice Alike.

"Think it over again, Nanette, before you refuse me."

"Why should I consider your proposal twice?"

"Oh, because you women never think twice alike."—Dorfbarrber.

The Tearkerchief.

In some parts of the Tyrol a beautiful though curious custom prevails. When a girl is going to be married, and just before she leaves the church, her mother gives her a handkerchief, which is called a tearkerchief. It is made of newly spun and unused linen, and with it the girl dries the natural tears she sheds on leaving home. The tearkerchief is never used after the marriage day, but is folded up and placed in the linen closet, where it remains till its owner's death when it is taken from its place and spread over her dead face.

Miss Prism—Don't let your dog bite me, little boy.

Little Boy—He won't bite, ma'am.

"But he is showing his teeth."

"Certainly he is, ma'am, and if you had as good teeth as he has you'd show 'em, too."—Stray Stories.

Best Sulphur from Japan.

Look in Japan for good sulphur. The yield of sulphur from Japanese ore is probably the highest in the world. It reaches 50 per cent. in the north, where ore of less than 38 per cent. is rejected. In Sicily 20 per cent. ore is considered workable. Japan's output has grown from 10,000 tons in 1900 to above 20,000 tons in 1904, and is likely to grow still further. Domestic consumption takes only a quarter of the output, the consuming industries being the manufacture of matches, for which there are numerous plants, of explosives, and of chemicals. Exports amount to 14,000 or 15,000 tons per year, the western coast of the United States and Australia being the largest consumers. The process of extraction is still primitive, and in northern Japan snow interrupts activities for five months every year.
